Handmade Bespoke Kitchens

HANDMADE FURNITURE

WELCOME TO STONEHOUSE

We are a privately owned and family run business, situated in the Cotswolds on the outskirts of the town of Stonehouse.

Our passion for design and high quality furniture has developed over three generations.

We offer discerning clients our expertise in creating both modern and traditional bespoke designs, all with the integrity of a handmade product. We would love to welcome you here at Stonehouse to explore the exciting opportunity your project could present for your own home.

DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Our ethos is a simple one which we are proud of. We put you, the client, centre stage of our thought processes and build a space around you. One which takes full advantage of the potential for the rooms, whilst ensuring that your lifestyle is made easier through some practical considerations. All beautifully balanced to reflect your personal taste with fine quality materials and finishes.

START A CONVERSATION

Our Collection is often the starting point of a conversation with our clients. Sometimes clients want a particular style created as we have presented it, in their home. Equally though, they can serve as initial reference points for doing something... more individual.

Regardless, we strive to strike that balance of uncompromising, beautiful design, which is always practical and relevant to you.

PASSION FOR DETAIL

When choosing to engage with Stonehouse you will be delighted to discover the quality that we build into our furniture.
Handmade with love for design using the finest materials our furniture is intended to endure for decades to come.

CLIENT EXPERIENCE

"Almost everywhere we looked, we saw modern German-style kitchens, all sleek lines and hidden functions. As keen enthusiasts of cooking and entertainment, our kitchen was to form the heart and hub of our home ... a cool, laboratory-style kitchen didn't seem quite right. At the same time, a country-style kitchen just felt a little too traditional for our tastes.

We wanted a kitchen with a wow factor, which was also comfortable and welcoming. Stonehouse helped us clarify and materialise our thoughts into a beautiful and practical kitchen, which also incorporates some of the latest technology. Guests particularly love ordering their coffees from an iPad!

Personable, reliable, attention to detail and a true sense of ownership were characteristics that shone through as we worked on our project with Gareth and his team."

Mr & Mrs Khan

"When designing our kitchen we wanted to create a space where we could all be together and this layout really works for us – if Steven is reading the paper, the boys are watching the TV and I'm cooking. We explained exactly what we wanted to create from the space and they executed it beyond our imaginations! We wanted to achieve the right balance between contemporary and traditional and this works beautifully for us. Because we didn't want to overfill the space with furniture we really had to make every cabinet count and Stonehouse helped us to find clever ideas to use the space to its maximum capability.

Stonehouse had made our previous kitchen so of course it was a natural decision to choose you again!"

Mr & Mrs Wheeler

"I knew I wouldn't be happy with an off-the-shelf kitchen. Fortunately I found Stonehouse, which is based in Gloucestershire, the designer worked with me down to the very last millimetre. It was a real labour of love, and I took inspiration from the celebrity chefs I work with and count as my friends. We started with a large, central island unit where the whole family can sit, cook and eat together. I also wanted a kitchen bursting with personality, with small, individual details that I'd enjoy noticing over the years."

Mrs Ross

We wanted an airy kitchen that we'd be happy to cook, eat, work and play in; somewhere homely to be the hub of the house.

I really wanted a traditional kitchen but to keep the clean lines. I'm really pleased with how it turned out.

Mr & Mrs Hunter

"We knew when we decided to change our kitchen we had to look at a bespoke manufacture to create everything we wanted, not only did it have to stand the test of time but it had to work with family and our everyday life. So when we came to Stonehouse they really knew what is was we were trying to achieve from the space. One of my requirements was to create a clutter free kitchen and working closely with the designer really helped my visions become reality. The whole project went very smoothly through design, survey and to installation and we couldn't be happier."

BATTERSEA

BATTERSEA

Shaker Kitchen

The Shaker Kitchen style represents simplicity, utility and honesty. A sought-after style as it offers balance to those who are between traditional and modern tastes. The calming hues and effortless minimalism created by a shaker kitchen can add aesthetic interest to any home whilst still offering a contented space to retreat to.

SOHO

SOHO

Modern Kitchen

A handle-less kitchen usually requires adhering to strict design rules. This contemporary, bespoke kitchen highlights the benefits of working with skilled designers and craftsmen.

Note how the contrasting walnut and handle-less cabinets create a sense of uninterrupted flow through the space. The book-matched, hand finished, gloss burr, walnut cabinets showcase the bespoke nature of the project. The design incorporated various custom elements that contributed to its overall look, such as the wine store, display cabinet and secret door through to the laundry room. We were able to fulfil the clients' requests without compromising the clean lines of the design, achieving a finish far beyond the capabilities of even the best German & Italian designers.

GUILDFORD

GUILDFORD

Traditional Kitchen

This design incorporates intricate features to create a sophisticated and luxurious kitchen for a grand Surrey residence. The furniture flows seamlessly between the kitchen, casual dining area and formal dining room. Bespoke, handmade curved doors are used to create an impressive seating area. The lady of the house, a very keen cook and baker, insisted on carefully considered working areas whilst maintaining the design. Stonehouse also created a dining table and study area, in keeping with the style of the kitchen.

CHELSEA

CHELSEA

Shaker Kitchen

This bespoke shaker kitchen was created for an impressive new build. The elegant simplicity captures the true essence of the shaker style; understated yet practical. The furniture was made to perfection with bespoke, handmade, dovetail jointed walnut drawers and the highest grade walnut faced ply for the cabinets. The kitchen island is generous in proportions, maximizing a single piece of quartz worktop. This creates a practical working environment with enough space for the whole family to be together. The furniture is painted in darker - yet complimentary - colours, with the perimeter being matched to rest of the joinery in the kitchen.

DROITWICH

DROITWICH

Modern Kitchen

This project is the perfect illustration that good design and high quality kitchens are not the reserve of large, impressive homes. This client had renovated an old farm house and wanted to create a contemporary, family friendly space. The design incorporates a mixture of finishes such as rough sawn oak and hand finished stainless steel panels. Interesting bespoke features include the floating base cabinets near the hob, the sliding walnut frame crockery store and the simple yet effective pantry cabinet. The media cabinets and banquette seating and upholstery were made by Stonehouse to link the spaces together, creating a space the whole family could enjoy.

SURBITON

SURBITON

Shaker Kitchen

Understated, refined and timeless. This was the brief we were given. The end result; a sophisticated painted bespoke kitchen with a balance of modern and luxurious touches. The kitchen island incorporates simple symmetry to create a practical and sociable working area. Simple and practical storage ideas include pull out spice racks in the mantle and a stunning bespoke pantry design. The granite was carefully selected, the client choosing exactly which section of each slab to be used in each area to achieve maximum impact of this stunning natural stone.

CHELTENHAM

CHELTENHAM

Country Kitchen

The second project we've completed for this client involved the sympathetic renovation of a classic Cheltenham Villa. The open nature of the space, with large windows and corridors, meant a freestanding feel was required for much of the furniture. A fine example of bespoke design and cabinetmaking skill can be seen in the kitchen's island. What looks like drawers in fact conceals two dishwashers, a large pull out bin and a cupboard. Subtle touches, such as bespoke finished handles and push-to-open fridge doors, added to the ease of use.

MADISON

MADISON

Modern Kitchen

This project exemplifies the quality and style achievable only from a handmade modern kitchen. Whilst all kitchens of this style are characterised by simple linear design, we uniquely offer an enormous scope for personal taste. Designed and handmade right here is our own manufacturing facilities, we are not restricted to limited dimensions or colours. Instead we can produce beautiful hand finished doors, cabinets and drawers; made in any width, depth and shape you desire. We can mix materials such as gloss or satin painted finishes with solid timber, natural and coloured veneers, concrete or metallic finishes. Instead of being mass produced our modern kitchens are handmade and engineered for your particular home and taste, then lovingly finished with a craftsman's touch.

HIGHGATE

HIGHGATE

Traditional Kitchen

This project showcases the bespoke nature of our work. The client was in the process of renovating a listed property and wanted a kitchen with real wow factor. The island design is completely custom, along with the scroll pilasters that were designed and crafted by our cabinetmakers. We also incorporated hidden accent lighting detail that surrounds the island. The granite was hand-selected with the client and applied in a way that would showcase this dramatic natural stone.

COTSWOLD

COTSWOLD

Country Kitchen

This luxury kitchen was collaboration with a local interior designer to produce a truly bespoke and unique kitchen. The project is located in a charming Cotswold farmhouse. Key to the design was to retain the character feel of the property in the kitchen whilst creating a feeling of luxury and sophistication. The furniture uses selected European Character Oak and incorporated a contrasting Ebony beading. The curved glass was handmade to the bespoke requirements of the design.

NEW HAMPTON

NEW HAMPTON

Shaker Kitchen

This kitchen was created as part of the renovation of a Georgian style home. We worked with our clients to design the kitchen, library and dressing rooms as well as a cinema and bar. High specification throughout attributed to Wolf & Sub Zero appliances and the hand selected stone work surfaces. Within this project there are a number of features that highlight our cabinetmakers' skills. The handmade chopping board utilises a combination of Walnut with contrasting Maple to highlight the lettering. The working surfaces of the piece are all made in end grain Walnut for durability, creating a striking and functional centrepiece. The furniture integrates seamlessly with the fabric of the room, bespoke-built specifically to allow the coving to sit immediately above. The use of pocket doors was a must for the client. They wanted to create a vast practical work and storage space which could easily be to preserve order in the kitchen.

OTHER ROOMS

In addition to creating bespoke kitchens we can assist with bespoke fitted furniture for all areas of the home.

This includes home studies, dressing rooms, bedrooms, vanity cabinets, dining rooms (and tables) to name but a few.

Our expertise in modern and traditional furniture can be applied in any of these contexts to help you create a truly unique home.

HOME LIBRARIES AND STUDIES

When it comes to creating a space in your home that is suitable for activities such as studying, paperwork and displaying that precious book collection - our studies and libraries make a luxurious addition to your property. This customer example illustrates how a traditional furniture style can still be configured in a practical way to accommodate his and her desk space, with his and her discreet computer consoles and shared printer console.

The detailing of the fluted pilasters with raised and fielded panelling, compliment the floor to ceiling shelving in this long and narrow space.

If you have an unusually shaped room which could be a likely candidate for a study or library, why not get in touch and we will be able to advise on how best to implement this into your space.

BEDROOMS

Stonehouse have a long standing history of creating high quality bedroom and dressing room furniture. Whether we are creating simple and practical wardrobe storage for a spare bedroom or a showpiece master dressing room; our ability to create lasting high quality furniture presents a compelling option when finishing these spaces.

CINEMA

This home cinema and media room was created as part of a considerable renovation project. We designed this in conjunction with the owner to utilise the space available in the best way possible, creating a luxurious cinema style seating area, complimented with the impressive bar. We designed and crafted bespoke cabinets in solid walnut as well as the bar furniture which we designed to accommodate a sink, dishwasher, ice makers and chiller units.
